TODAY'S COVER

This week's cover serves to highlight the breadth and depth of services provided by the University of Nebraska to residents of the state through teaching, research, and public service. From the campuses in Lincoln and Omaha to the local extension agent, the services of the University are available to Nebraskans in all walks of life and of all ages. You can keep in touch with University activities each week by watching "University News" on the Nebraska Educational Television Network. Turn to page 4 for more details on this program and NU programs on commercial radio stations.

NEBRASKA SPELLS "SPORTSMANSHIP"

The University of Nebraska is known and respected all over the nation for its red-attired fans, as well as its football teams.

Nebraska fans also have a nation-wide reputation for good sportsmanship, at home and away.

"Big League"—that's the way Nebraska teams and fans have acquitted themselves in past seasons, and that's the same goal for 1971.

The University of Nebraska urges all 1971 fans to continue this fine tradition of sportsmanship by extending courtesy to the visiting teams and officials.

All of us on the Cornhusker Staff salute our fans as the greatest in the nation and thank you for your support and sportsmanship.

Yours for Nebraska,

Bob Devaney

Husker Seniors—Devaney Era Summit Climbers

By DON BRYANT
Sports Information Director

Today the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers renew an ancient rivalry with the Iowa State Cyclones in a game packed with interest and significance.

Nebraska is the nation's No. 1 team, unbeaten for 27 consecutive games, winners of 18 straight games, defending Big 8 champion and defending national champion. Coach Bob Devaney is the winningest coach in the nation with a career record of 122-28-6. Iowa State, on the other hand, has no such lofty tradition—that is, until Coach Johnny Majors got something big going this year.

The Cyclones of 1971 bear little resemblance to the often-whipped Iowa State clubs of the past. Majors, a talented member of a talent-laden family of Tennessee greats, has developed the Cyclones into a powerful, capable football team that has lost only to No. 2 ranked Oklahoma and

No. 9 ranked Colorado while winning five games. Last week, while Nebraska was reducing Colorado, 31-7, Iowa State hung tough before losing, 43-12, to the Sooners at Norman.

Thus, it will be Nebraska against Iowa State in a fine Big 8 Conference match. Nebraskans join in welcoming Coach Majors, his players and Cyclone fans to Memorial Stadium for the final home game of 1971.

Parents Day

Speaking of Nebraska tradition, a special salute should go to Cornhusker parents today, particularly the dads of Husker players who will be on the sidelines. But the biggest bombardment of praise should be showered on 19 Cornhusker seniors who will be making their final Memorial Stadium appearance.

Die-hard Husker fans will get misty eyed today thinking back over the past three years—John Adkins, Jim Anderson, Van Brownson, Woody Cox, Dale Didur, Phil Harvey, Gary Hollstein, Jeff Hughes, Larry Jacobson, Carl Johnson, Jeff Kinney, Bill Kosch, Tom McClelland, Pat Morell, Dick Rupert, Jerry Tagge, Bob Terrio, Bruce Weber, Keith Wortman—an honor roll of Cornhusker stars, if ever there were one.

Well, since that September day in 1969 when today's seniors made their Memorial Stadium debut and lost to Southern California, they have lost only one other game (to Missouri, 17-7 three games later in 1969) and except for a 21-21 tie with Southern Cal last year they have won every other college game they've played—a magnificent record of 28 victories, two losses and one tie in three years, along with at least two Big 8 titles and a national championship.

All Nebraskans join today in grateful admiration for a fine group of young student-athletes, who have brought honor and fame to themselves, their University and their State—the 1971 Cornhusker Seniors.

NEBRASKA MEMORIAL STADIUM

① EMERGENCIES

A First Aid Station, manned by volunteers of the American Red Cross, is located under the west side of the north stadium. Red Cross personnel are also located throughout the four stadiums.

② REST ROOMS

Men's and Ladies' rest rooms are located beneath all four stadiums, at the north and south ends in the upper levels of the east and west concourses, and at the ends of the balconies.

③ LOST ARTICLES

Articles found should be turned over to the Lost and Found offices located at the south ends of the East and West Stadiums. Persons seeking to recover lost articles after the game should inquire at the Campus Security Office, located in the Forburer building just north of the Field House. On the Monday following the game, all lost articles are taken to the University Lost and Found Dept., located at Nebraska Hall 112, 901 N. 17th, telephone: 472-2532.

④ PUBLIC TELEPHONES

Public telephones are located on the ground level. University operator 472-7211.

⑤ CONCESSIONS

Refreshment stands are located in the east and west concourse and under the North and South Stadiums; vendors circulate throughout the stadium before and during the game.

The possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages in the University of Nebraska stadium is expressly prohibited by University regulations.

Highway traffic will be heavy on all roads after the game. Please drive carefully.

'University News' Provides Weekly TV Report

You have an opportunity to learn how the University of Nebraska serves the state through a weekly television program, "University News" at 7:30 p.m. each Friday and at 5:30 p.m. each Sunday on the Nebraska Educational Television Network.

This program features highlights of the past week and the week ahead on all Lincoln and Omaha campuses as well as outstate activities.

Produced by the NU Department of Public Relations in Lincoln, the program features a report from the Lincoln City Campus by Bob Van Neste, and news of the East Campus and outstate activities by Tom Bare.

Terry Barton presents information on the University Medical Center in Omaha and Ron Fritz highlights activities at the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

The program originates in the studios of KUON-TV at Lincoln in cooperation with Channel 26 in Omaha and is transmitted throughout Nebraska on the Educational Television Network. All Nebraskans can view the program at 7:30 p.m. each Friday and 5:30 p.m. each Sunday. Transmitters in western Nebraska tape the show for re-broadcast at 7:30 p.m. Fridays and 5:30 p.m. Sundays Mountain Standard Time.

This program along with three radio programs combine to provide several avenues for interested persons to keep in touch with the University. Two radio programs—"University Speaks" and "Farm Facts and Fun" have been produced many years by the NU Lincoln campuses for commercial radio stations across the state. The University Medical Center also produces a program entitled "The Clinic" for radio stations. Consult your local radio schedules for the broadcast times.

Lowe Fund to Encourage Quality Community Newspapers

To encourage quality in community newspapers in Nebraska, the Jack H. Lowe Fund has been established in the University of Nebraska Foundation for the benefit of the School of Journalism on the Lincoln campus.

Establishing the Fund was the Telegraph Printing Company, Inc., of Sidney, where Mr. Lowe served as staff writer, editor and co-publisher of the Sidney Telegraph from the mid-Twenties to his retirement in July, 1971.

John Gottschalk, publisher of the Sidney Telegraph and president of the printing company, said the Fund will have perpetual existence with annual contributions from the sponsor. It is hoped that through this Fund "Mr. Lowe's spirit of initiative, dedication, and intellect will provide guidance and encouragement for future generations of journalists."

Gifts Being Sought

Other newspapers, journalistic organizations and friends of Mr. Lowe have also contributed to the Fund, with future gifts being welcomed. The use of the Fund will be determined by the School of Journalism with the advice of a board comprised of a faculty member and a student from the School, the president of the Nebraska Press Association, and a representative of the Telegraph Printing Company.

Neale Copple, director of the School of Journalism, said: "The establishment of this fund with its flexibility and its innovations holds more promise than any of the ideas I have seen to date. This School of Journalism is built on a base of close cooperation with the state press. The Jack H. Lowe Fund will strengthen these ties."

Hall of Honor

Included in the area in which the fund will work are:

—A Nebraska journalism Hall of Honor to be established in the new quarters of the School of Journalism and to be used to honor the most noteworthy of the state's journalists.

—A program to give students an opportunity to get out into the community journalism field and, at the same time, give community editors an opportunity to come into the School of Journalism to work with students.

—A program of publications would be established in such a way that material of value to both the community newspapers and the School of Journalism would be published and collected on a regular basis.

—A program to encourage internships and scholarships on community newspapers in Nebraska.

—A program to acknowledge and honor superior community service by Nebraska newspapers which consistently perform at a level of service which deserves special recognition.

—A program to incorporate the functions of community journalism into the curriculum of the School of Journalism in an innovative approach that escapes from the usual curriculum courses.

Regents Professorships Give Margin of Excellence

To keep a first-rate quality rating, any university or college must keep its best faculty people and attract others outstanding in their field. There is no other way to excellence.

That's why the University of Nebraska Alumni Association, in cooperation with friends of the institution, established the Endowment Fund for Distinguished Teaching which is administered by the University Foundation.

Through the Endowment Fund, 21 special chairs, known as Regents professorships, have been established on the Lincoln campuses. They are awarded in recognition of outstanding ability in teaching and research. Each chair carries an annual stipend in addition to the professor's state-supported salary.

This fall the University Foundation named one of the professorships in honor of the late Perry W. Branch, who served as the Foundation's first executive officer for 20 years. Dr. C. Bertrand Schultz, Foundation Professor, now has the title of Perry W. Branch Professor of Geology.

Dr. Carl E. Georgi, who held the N. Murray Longworth professorship in microbiology, reached retirement age this year. Another staff member will be recommended for the professorship. Dr. Georgi is continuing as professor of microbiology.

This program is giving the University a margin of excellence by making it possible to retain outstanding staff members and compete more effectively in the national market for academic talent.

Zumberge Will Become Chancellor February 1

Dr. James H. Zumberge, an internationally known geologist and experienced university administrator, will become chancellor of the NU Lincoln campuses and vice president of the University of Nebraska system Feb. 1.

He will succeed Dr. C. Peter Magrath who has been serving as interim chancellor since Dr. Joseph Soshnik resigned to join an investment firm in Omaha.

A native of Minneapolis, Dr. Zumberge holds B.A. and Ph.D. degrees in geology from the University of Minnesota and an L.L.D. from Grand Valley College in Michigan.

He began his academic career as an instructor in geology at the University of Michigan in 1950 and advanced to professor in 1960. From 1950 to 1962 he served as a consultant in ground water and metallic deposits in the State of Michigan. In 1962 he became president of the newly-established Grand Valley State College. A new library was named in his honor at the College in 1968—the same year he was named director of the School of Earth Sciences at the University of Arizona. The school was elevated to college status three years later and Dr. Zumberge became the first dean.

Dr. James H. Zumberge

Dr. Zumberge was the chief geologist for the U.S. Ross Ice Shelf Project in Antarctica for the the International Geophysical Year in 1957-58 and was the chief organizer for three subsequent Antarctic expeditions supported by the National Science Foundation.

His wife is the former Marilyn Edwards of Western Springs, Illinois. They have four children—John 23; Jo Ellen, 20; James, 18; and Mark, 16.

—A Whole New Dimension In Furniture Buying—*

WHAT'S SO DIFFERENT ABOUT WANEK'S? Once in a lifetime a revolutionary idea is born . . . that's WANEK'S! A few years ago we threw away the book on "old fashioned" furniture operations and developed a fabulous new concept that's saving money for thousands of home makers. To begin with, Wanek's unique mass merchandising system enables Wanek's to buy nationally known, name brand home furnishings and receive the lowest possible price on quality merchandise. Wanek's also cut operating costs by maintaining just one store, plus three huge walk in warehouses, all under one roof and all in the same low country overhead location. Our vast 100,000 sq. ft. showroom and warehouse offers you the advantage of choosing from over 350 room settings, more than 1,000 chairs, rockers and recliners, 400 rolls of carpeting and a complete appliance and TV center. These are but a few of the things that make Wanek's of Crete different . . . but you'll notice the biggest difference when you check our price tags and count your savings!

Egbert Is New Dean of NU Teachers College

A native of Idaho and former director of the Follow Through Program of the U.S. Office of Education is the new dean of Teachers College at NU.

Dr. Robert L. Egbert assumed his new position at NU after more than three years as director of Follow Through, a federal program designed to sustain and to supplement gains made by children in Head Start or similar-preschool programs.

Prior to joining the U.S. Office of Education in 1967 Dr. Egbert served as chairman of the Graduate Department of Education and professor of educational psychology at Brigham Young University. From 1961 to 1963 he also served as human factors scientist, and head, administrative and support systems activity of the Educational Research and Development project for the System Development Corp. in Santa Monica, Calif.

Dr. Egbert also has served as senior research scientist at George Washington University, assistant professor of psychology at Utah State University, research associate in the New York State Education department and instructor of psychology at Triple Cities College in New York.

He attended Ricks College and Idaho State University, holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from Utah State University, and a Ph.D. from Cornell University.

The author of numerous technical articles and active member of many professional education organizations, he is married and has nine children.

Bob Hope Show

CORN COBS MARK 50th ANNIVERSARY

Members of Corn Cobs, men's pep organization at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, are celebrating the 50th anniversary of the group with a special Bob Hope Show at 8 p.m. tonight in the Coliseum.

Gary Kuklin of Lincoln, current president of Corn Cobs, said proceeds from the Bob Hope Show will be used to purchase equipment for the new outdoor track west of the Coliseum. The program represents a tradition of Corn Cobs to bring entertainment to the campus.

Corn Cobs was founded at NU in 1921 "to foster and engender student pep and enthusiasm at the NU and to assume initiative in creating student spirit." Those elected to Corn Cobs accept three challenges: scholarship, spirit and service to NU, and loyalty and respect for the organization. The year after Corn Cobs was organized, NU members and other university pep groups in the Midwest, formed Pi Epsilon Pi, a national spirit and service fraternity.

Current membership in Corn Cobs includes 37 activities, all juniors and seniors, and 40 workers, all freshmen and sophomores. New members are selected from the ranks of workers on the basis of service to the organization, scholarship and character.

Activities by Corn Cobs over the years include the card section in East Stadium during football games, a major effort to raise funds to finance Nebraska's float in the Orange Bowl parade last year, contributions for the heart resuscitation equipment in Memorial Stadium, the Husker Mascot, and ushering at Honors Convocations.

One of the Corn Cobs traditions began in 1953 with the naming of Don Lentz, director of bands at NU, as the first honorary member. The second honorary member was named this fall, Johnny Carson, formerly of Norfolk and now a television star on NBC's Tonight Show. Bob Hope will become the third honorary member of the Corn Cobs this weekend.

COLLEGIATE COMMISSIONERS ASSOCIATION

Early in 1939 five college football commissioners established an organization for the purpose of attacking mutual problems. From that small beginning has grown what is now the Collegiate Commissioners Association, its members the chief executive officers and their assistants from the eleven major college conferences from coast to coast. Representing nearly 300 institutions, they range in size from the seven-member Mid-American Conference to the mammoth 190-member Eastern College Athletic Conference.

The CCA's field of interest has broadened greatly since its inception, now encompassing not only football, but all sports on the collegiate program. The members as such give united attention not alone to officiating assignment and rules interpretation, but also to procedures on undergraduate athletic recruitment and eligibility and to the many other facets of intercollegiate sports administration.

Chevrolet. Building a better way to see the U.S.A.

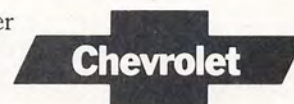

Our Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe at Portland Head Light, Maine.

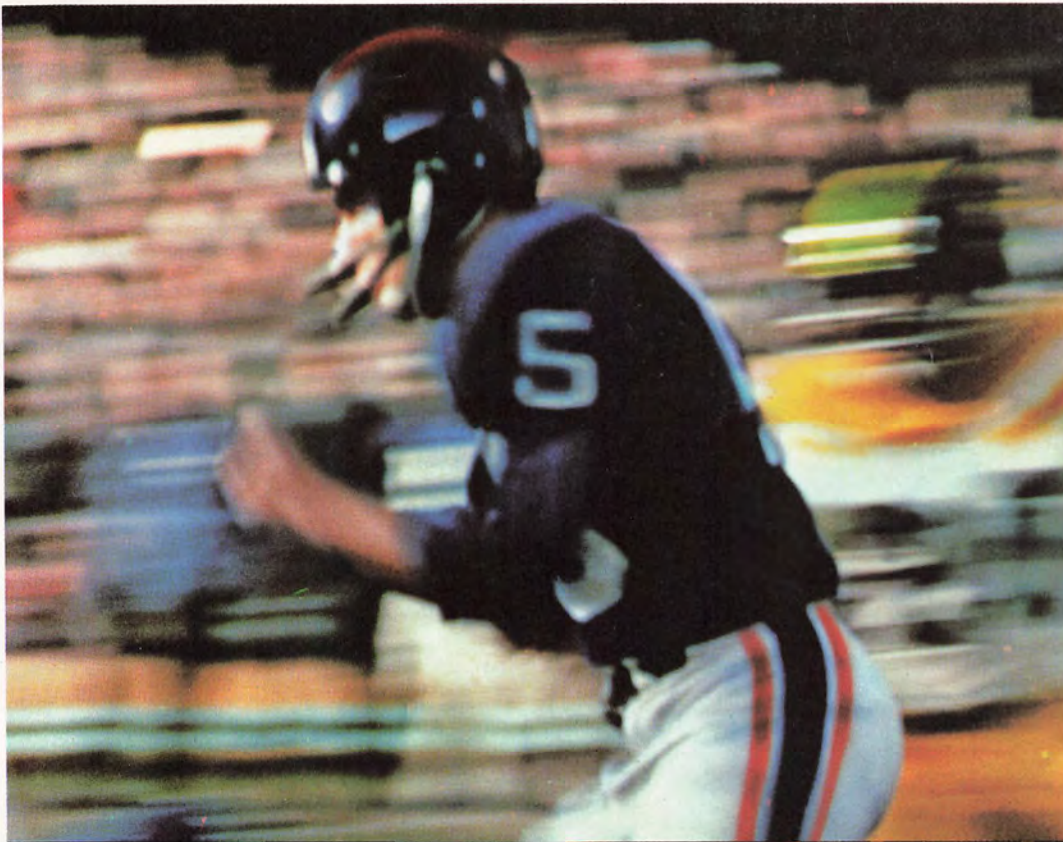

Chevelle for 1972. It fits more families, more budgets, more garages and more vacations.

It fits so well that in the last eight years it has become an American standard—a yardstick to measure how far your money can go. And how much comfort and room your money can buy.

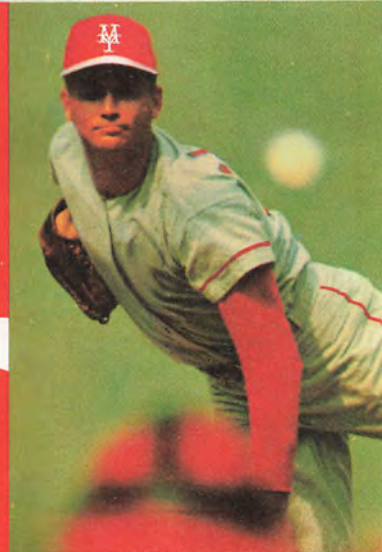

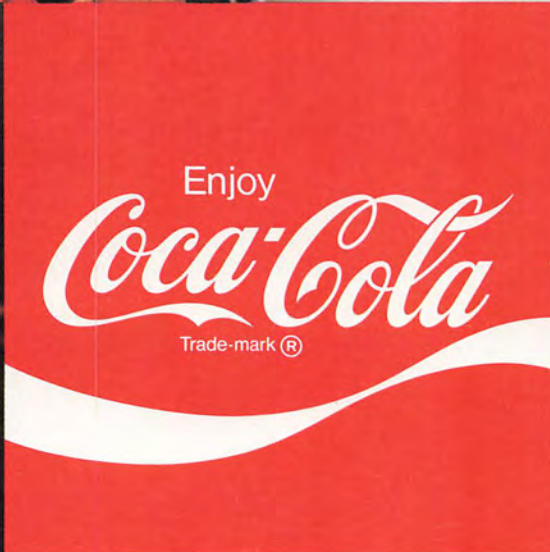

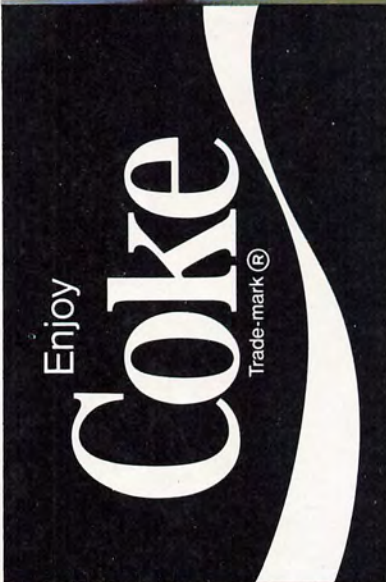

Our Chevelle fits families so well, in size and price, it's become America's favorite mid-size car. This year we've added improved pollution controls and a long lasting generator, among other things. Improvements with a purpose. We want your 1972 Chevelle to be the best car you ever owned. It's our way of building a better way to see the U.S.A.

"Coca-Cola" and "Coke" are registered trade-marks which identify the same product of The Coca-Cola Company.

THE NATIONAL FOOTBALL FOUNDATION AND HALL OF FAME

Nebraska Chapter

Memberships in the Nebraska Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame—the fastest-growing chapter in the nation—are still being accepted.

Football fans all over Nebraska have joined together in this worthwhile effort to boost college football and American ideals. Members attend several banquets each year—Coach Bob Devaney was installed in the Nebraska Hall of Fame last spring—and vote on membership in the Nebraska Hall of Fame and the National Hall of Fame.

If you, too, want to become part of this enthusiastic group of college football fans—post-graduate scholarships are also awarded to top student-athletes—fill out the application card, attach a check for $10, payable to the Football Hall of Fame, Nebraska Chapter, and mail to Don Bryant, Secretary, Nebraska Hall of Fame, 109 Coliseum, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska 68508.

Pre-Season Tournament To Set Basketball Balance

Regardless of what the final basketball standings in the Big Eight Conference might have reflected last season when Kansas swept through the league, the NCAA regionals, and into the final round of four, there was a great deal of balance throughout.

Kansas, plainly and simply, won the close ones down the stretch—the last four Conference wins for the Jayhawks were by one, two, two, and five points.

That balance of last year which never broke over the surface will be far more visible this season. Two reasons are Oklahoma and Missouri. They were Kansas' two top challengers a year ago and both return four starters and a flock of dandies from good freshman teams.

Fourth-place Nebraska has three regulars back, while Kansas State, with two outstanding players from its championship team of two seasons ago numbered among the four returning starters, is almost a certainty to rebound from only its second losing season in 25 campaigns.

Even co-seventh-place finishers Oklahoma State and Iowa State—and particularly the Cyclones—look much improved. The Cowboys return three regulars, while Iowa State has a new coach (the quite successful Maury John), a new enthusiasm, and a number of new faces.

Colorado, like Kansas, did lose three regulars. Colorado's loss includes the Big Eight's all-time leading scorer in Cliff Meely. Kansas is without its entire back line.

Yet, Colorado's Sox Walseth seems to relish this sort of a situation, which is a parallel to three years ago when he guided the Buffs to the title. Kansas' Ted Owens maintains an optimistic air.

First real display of the basketball balance will come, as it has for the past 25 years, with the annual Big Eight Pre-Season Basketball Tournament, December 27-30 in Kansas City's Municipal Auditorium.

Opening tournament play this year will be Oklahoma State and Colorado. The Cowboys, according to Coach Sam Aubrey, will be a better shooting club this year and will be quicker. The three starters back are guard Jerry Clack, and forwards Mike Jeffries and Tony Kraus. Kraus was the team's leading scorer last campaign.

Colorado has eight returnees from last year, including Jim Creighton, a 6-7 slick-moving center who has played two seasons in Meely's shadow. Back, too, are Steve Aaker, peppery Bobby Hofman, Marc Teets, and Larry McCoy.

The nightcap on the 27th will have Missouri against Nebraska. Missouri bows into tournament play with four returning starters, including John Brown, Bob Allen, Greg Flaker, and Mike Griffin. Both Brown and Allen averaged in double figures and Brown gained extra experience as a member of an Olympic development team this summer. Part-time starter Bill Foster also returns to Norm Stewart's fold.

Chuck Jura (6-10), Al Nissen, and Mike Peterson (6-8) are all Big Eight tested seniors for Coach Joe Cipriano at Nebraska, where replacements have to be found for the top scorer and rebounder. Also around are Tony Riehl and Tom Gregory, who saw plenty of relief duty last year.

Tipping off first on the 28th will be defending champion Kansas against revamped Iowa State. The Jayhawks of Ted Owens can point to Bud Stallworth, a two-year regular, and Aubrey Nash as returning starters. Bob Kivisto was last year's sixth man and Randy Canfield (6-9) came back strong from illness. This nucleus lets Owens go into the season with an air of optimism, despite the loss of the top three rebounders and two of the team's best scorers.

Though four starters do return at Iowa State, it is almost a certainty that this year's Cyclones will take on a new look. First, there will be the Maury John version of the fast break and the harassing "belly-button" defense. Three transfers, including a seven-footer (Tom O'Connor), join veterans led by Gene Mack, who ranks as the highest-scoring guard in Iowa State history.

Closing out first-round action could be one of the great tests in tournament history when Kansas State challenges Oklahoma. Basketball tradition at Kansas State dictates optimism and six who have started at one time or another do return, including Steve Mitchell (6-10), Ernie Kusnyer, David Hall, Jack Thomas, Lindburgh White, and Bob Zender. Mitchell topped the team in scoring last year, while Hall was the rebounding leader.

There is no doubt that John MacLeod has turned around Sooner basketball fortunes, leading the Oklahomans to the NIT the last two years. He has four starters on hand, including Bobby Jack, the team's top scorer, and Scott Martin, one of the all-time best Big Eight guards. John Yule and Andrew Pettes round out the starting corps returning.

Tickets for the tournament, priced at $2, $3, $4, and $5, can be ordered now, either through the University of Nebraska Ticket Office, or through the Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City.

And, as in the past, a full slate of 10 games will be televised over a Big Eight network of stations.

This year the series will open with Colorado at Nebraska on January 15 and close on March 11 with Oklahoma at Missouri.

The full schedule (with tipoff times listed):

January 15—Colorado at Nebraska (2:10 C.S.T.)
January 22—Kansas at Colorado (1:10 M.S.T.)

NOTRE DAME '66 vs NEBRASKA '70?

Ever wondered how Notre Dame's great Hanratty-Seymour sophomore combination would have scored against last year's Number One Nebraska team? It's the kind of "dream" match-up we'll never see played on the field. But SPORTS ILLUSTRATED has come up with the next best thing—an amazingly accurate College Football Game that features 32 of the greatest college teams of the past decade. Based on a complete analysis of every play run by each of these teams during their outstanding seasons, the SI College Football Game lets you coach and quarterback your favorites under the most realistic game conditions possible. Since each team's strengths and weaknesses have been realistically integrated into the game, you can enjoy all the strategy, options and suspense of college football and find out what would happen if you were calling your team's offense and defensive plays. Color-coded Play/Action Charts for the following teams are included:

AIR FORCE '70	MINNESOTA '60	PURDUE '66
ALABAMA '66	MISSISSIPPI '61	STANFORD '70
ARKANSAS '69	MISSOURI '69	SYRACUSE '66

IOWA STATE CYCLONES

DEAN CARLSON—Tri-captain Dean Carlson is both a fighter and a fine quarterback. He reacts well to pressure and has come along as expected to join Nebraska's Jerry Tagge in a two-way fight for Big Eight passing supremacy. Going into last weekend's games, Tagge held a 6.3 yards-per-game advantage over the Cyclone senior. Tagge was averaging 168.6 yards per game, Carlson, 162.5. Carlson's proficiency at Iowa State is a carry-over from his junior college days at Rochester, Minnesota—his home town. In 1969, he led the nation's JC passers with 2,090 yards on 127 completions.

KEITH SCHROEDER—"Stumpy" is something else! That's the opinion of Johnny Majors, his head coach, and Jackie Sherrill, the defensive coordinator whose special job is to handle the linebackers. Keith (Stumpy) Schroeder deserves this praise—the 6-foot, 210-pounder made 69 unassisted tackles and took part in 92 others in 1970 for a total of 161. He also found time to recover a pair of fumbles, and to break up three passes. As a sophomore he picked off a fumble and rumbled 62 yards for a score. The Cyclones think he is the best linebacker in the Big Eight—and Majors and Sherrill will argue a long time before they would admit that any others in the country are as good.

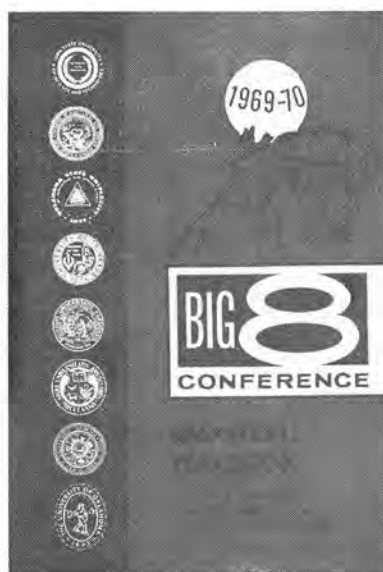

GEORGE AMUNDSON—A converted quarterback, Amundson has adapted very well to his new tailback spot. Going into last week's Oklahoma game, the Aberdeen, S.D., junior was second only to Oklahoma's Greg Pruitt in both rushing and tandem offense. He was averaging 117.7 rushing and 124.7 rushing and receiving. Amundson also ranked seventh in total offense at 131.7 ypg. George's rushing figure was tenth among major colleges.

IKE HARRIS—One of the best-looking sophomores to appear on the Ames campus in recent years is a 6-5, 210-lb. split end from West Memphis, Ark., Ike Harris. Harris combined his excellent speed and good moves to catch 21 passes for 327 yards and three touchdowns in his first six games—fourth best in the conference. (His 327 yards is actually the third best yardage figure, but the Big Eight bases its pass receiving rankings on number of catches.) Harris was an outstanding all-around athlete in high school, lettering three times each in football, basketball and track.

IOWA STATE UNIVERSITY

Iowa State University, located at Ames, Iowa, was formally opened on March 17, 1968 as the Iowa Agricultural College under the terms of the federal Morrill Land Grant Act. After more than a century of educational service, the school is now formally called Iowa State University of Science and Technology. It is one of three institutions of higher education controlled by the Iowa State Board of Regents. ISU's enrollment has more than doubled in the past decade, now standing at 19,274 students. It has experienced a dramatic physical plant expansion since the war years, including one of the finest cultural centers in the United States, the Iowa State Center. Construction on the Center's newest building, the 14,000 seat James H. Hilton Coliseum, was completed this summer. The Coliseum will be home to the Cyclone basketball team and other large University and public events. The University is a broad-based school with specific interests in science, the humanities, agriculture, engineering, home economics and veterinary medicine. The University has three major functions: first, it is a teaching institution, offering a wide variety of courses on both undergraduate and graduate levels; second, it is a center for research where scientists open new frontiers of knowledge through their investigations; third, it is a service institution reaching out to all parts of the state through extension programs embracing agriculture, industry, community and home.

Air view of the Hilton Coliseum and C. Y. Stephens Auditorium. Coliseum is at the lower left and C. Y. Stephens at the right center. Ample parking has been established to both areas and landscaping will be complete in October.

Ready for use this fall will be the new Aerospace-Civil Engineer building on the west edge of the campus. Modern in every respect, the new structure will give aerospace and civil engineering newer and larger quarters for teaching and administration.

Carver Hall is one of newer classroom buildings on campus. Completed two years ago, it was named after George Washington Carver, an early graduate of Iowa State University, famous scientist who brought a new agricultural economy to the South.

Automobile dealers in Nebraska are contributing a large measure of help to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars.

Like other programs which are a part of the Cornhusker booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds.

These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a great debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "team" that includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, Husker Educational Award group, Touchdown Club, Extra Point Club, Beef Club and the courtesy car program.

THE TOUCHDOWN CLUB OF NEBRASKA

One of the groups most instrumental in helping the University of Nebraska Athletic Department grow in the field of inter-collegiate sports is the Nebraska Touchdown Club.

Contributions from TD Club members have enabled the Cornhuskers to build a fine grant-in-aid program and continued support from the Touchdown Club, and groups like the Husker Achievement Awards, the Extra Point Club, and the Cornhusker Beef Club, will insure that the Nebraska Cornhuskers will always hold a prominent place in the college sports world.

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department salutes the many members of the Touchdown Club and takes this opportunity to say a sincere "Thank You."

Touchdown Club members contributing $100 or more are:

"HAIL VARSITY"

Chorus

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings
the Scarlet and Cream,
Cheers for a victory
Echo our loyalty;
So on, mighty men
The eyes of the land, upon ev'ry hand, are looking at you.
Fight on for victory
Hail the men of Nebraska U

THE CORNHUSKER

Come a-runnin' boys
Don't you hear that noise
Like the thunder in the sky,
How it rolls along
In the good old song
For the sons of Nebraska;
Now it's coming near
With a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away,
So, with all our vim,
We are bound to win
And we're going to win today.

Chorus

For Nebraska and the Scarlet
For Nebraska and the Cream,
Tho they go through many a battle
Our colors still are seen
So in contest and in victory
We will wave them for the team
And 'twill always stir a Cornhusker,
The old Scarlet and Cream.

DEAR OLD NEBRASKA U

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest
Of any old school that I knew,
There is no place like Nebraska
Where they're all true blue
We'll all stick together
In all kinds of weather
For dear old Nebraska U.

Cornhusker Educational and Athletic Award Program

Presented in Bronze Plaques

An appreciation plaque is located in the lobby of the Coliseum.

The Husker Educational Athletic Award program is a program established nine years ago under the joint sponsorship of the University of Nebraska Alumni Association, the University of Nebraska Foundation, and the University of Nebraska Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It is a worthwhile attempt on the part of these organizations to help provide a stabilized athletic program for your state university. It has met with enthusiastic support from business leaders all over Nebraska and from other friends of the University.

All grants are under the rules and regulations of the NCAA and Big Eight Conference and meet the approval of the Faculty Committee on Scholarships. The awards are based upon scholarship character, and athletic participation.

NEBRASKA BASKETBALL

By DON BRYANT
Sports Information Director

When the last home football game rolls around every year, it's time to start thinking about basketball—and 1971 at the University of Nebraska is no exception.

Main reason for the excitement generated by the Husker cagers, of course, is veteran coach Joe Cipriano, who literally lives, breathes, eats and sleeps basketball once October 15th rolls around.

Joe gets a gleam of anticipation in his eyes this fall whenever someone asks him about his upcoming prospects.

"We had a good year last year and we've got a great shot at another fine season this year," Joe says without looking over his shoulder to see if anyone is taking notes. "We're going to be a Big 8 contender, and we've got the potential to become a very fine basketball team."

Cipriano has another reason to be happy this year, since the Nebraska Legislature—thanks to the increased tax on cigarettes—saw fit last winter to launch a program that will give the University of Nebraska a much-needed indoor athletic facility.

"We can already tell the difference in enthusiasm for Nebraska when we talk to young players,"

Cipriano said. "Most all of the schools we recruit against either have or are getting new arenas, and we've been at a disadvantage. But now that Nebraska has made a commitment to get a new arena, we can talk up our program and really start building for the future."

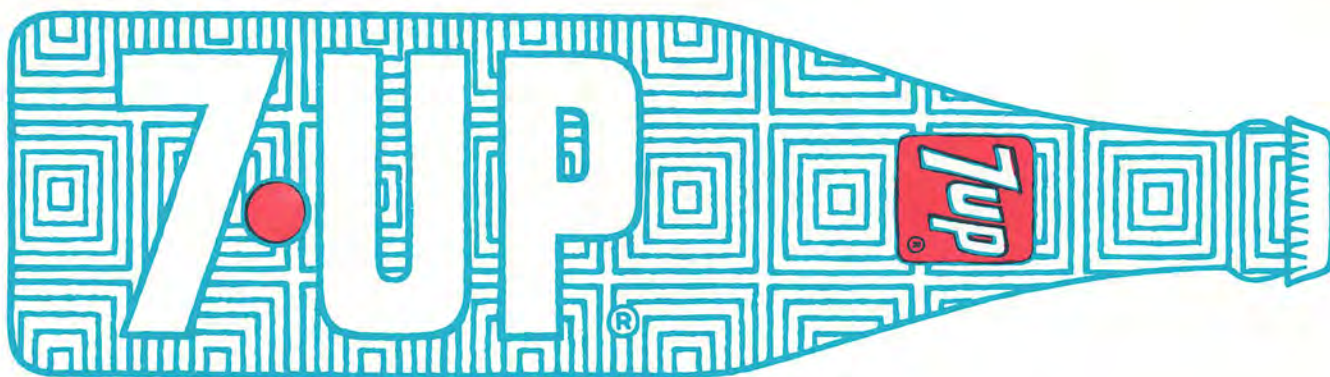

One thing certain about Slippery Joe's 1970-71 team: it will have a distinct Nebraska flavor.

We've got some outstanding Nebraska boys on the squad this year," Cipriano said. "They're all doing a fine job in practice."

The Husker bounce-ball skipper was referring to Center Chuck Jura from Schuyler, Forward Mike Peterson from Omaha Creighton Prep, Guard-Forward Lee Harris from Omaha Central, Forward Curt LeRossignol from Lincoln, Forward Cal Christline from Sterling, Guard Rick Brown from Scottsbluff and Guard Tom Novak from Lincoln.

"This is the best group of Nebraska natives we've ever had, and we expect big things from them," Cipriano said.

Nebraska opens its basketball season on November 20 (7:30 p.m.) at the Coliseum with the annual Varsity-Freshman game.
